

PMI Leadership Institute Policies

Release and Waiver

In consideration of being permitted to participate in the LIMC program, the Participant releases and discharges the Project Management Institute its directors, officers, and employees from any and all claims demands, actions, or damages of any kind arising in any manner from the Participant's participation in the LIMC program. The Participant also understands and assumes any risks associated with participation in the program. To maintain high standards of scholarship and behavior, LIMC reserves the right to reject or terminate an enrollment.

Handling Concerns

LIMC is intended to be a safe, educational, and productive professional development experience for all participants. Any concerns should be brought to the attention of a Class Advisor or PMI Global Operations Center staff. LIMC will do its best to resolve concerns quickly.

Logo Usage

Use of the PMI logo or the LIMC icon is not permitted under any condition by participants in the LIMC program. Usage of the logo or the icon may be used only after receiving express written consent from PMI. Permission to use the PMI logo or icon will be limited to specific cases, and the actual use must be approved in advance formal permissions process.

Promotional Materials

By enrolling in LIMC, participants grant PMI the right to use, in promotional materials, their likeness or voice as recorded on or transferred to videotape, film, slides, audiotape, or other media.

Wireless Communications

Please turn off cell phones, personal digital assistants, pagers, and other communication devices prior to entering the classroom

Participant Responsibilities:

The PMI Leadership Institute anticipates a large volume of interested applicants for the PMI Leadership Institute Master Class(s) of 2012. Therefore committing fully to all of the participant responsibilities as outlined below is of high importance.

I understand the purpose of the Leadership Institute Master Class, and, if selected, I will commit the time and resources required. Although emergencies do arise, I understand that attendance is mandatory at all three (3) multi-day sessions throughout the year. Participants that miss more than one half program day of the LIMC Seminar for whatever reason may not graduate from the program. Participants must demonstrate appropriate ethical behavior for the duration of the program. Participants found in violation of ethical behavior as determined by the PMI Global Operations Center Staff and session facilitators will not graduate from the program. Incompletion of the LIMC may result for any individual found in fault of the outlined responsibilities.
